EZ Quickorder

Purpose

Provide a list of previously purchased products to registered users so they can quickly select products to reorder. An absolute must for wholesale customers who tend to order the same things over and over again.

A customer can currently review their old orders and after several clicks, reorder that order again. But it's much more convenient to present the customer with a list of previously ordered products (including options selected) to quickly add them to their cart and/or to go directly to checkout with the last shipping method and payment method already selected.

When a user logs in and they have previously ordered products, a notification is displayed that gives them a link to select from those products. A link is also on the My Account menu for Quickorder.
